Kelli Antonucci

Nonprofit Outreach Manager

Kelli.antonucci@npower.org

NPower mobilizes the tech community and provides individuals, nonprofits and schools opportunities to build tech skills and achieve their potential.

We pursue this mission through two signature programs:

- Technology Service Corps
- The Community Corps

New York, Dallas, San Francisco Bay Area, Toronto
Newark NJ

The Community Corps connects nonprofits and schools with skilled tech volunteers.

The Community Corps is a skills-based volunteering program connecting technology professionals with high impact nonprofits and schools via our online platform.

Our tech volunteers work hand-in-hand with schools and nonprofits to help them use technology more effectively and inspire the next generation of science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) professionals. .

2,000+ Nonprofits & Schools results in...

5,000+ Volunteer Projects

80,000+ Hours Donated

Over $12 Million in Social Value

The Community Corps connects nonprofits and schools with skilled tech volunteers.

- 1) Internal IT / Capacity Building: Volunteers address critical internal technology needs of nonprofits and schools; technology assessments, database management, website management, social media, Excel training and cloud based services.
- 2) Program Delivery / STEM Mentoring: Volunteers interact directly with students and community members to share their business and tech experience. Projects include in classroom STEM speakers, mentoring, hosting career site visits, and STEM program design and program delivery.

Being a Member of The Community Corps has its Benefits!

As a member of The Community Corps you have access to numerous benefits and discounts on technology and technology events. We have many ways to promote your project and connect you with skilled tech volunteers. We also provide discounts on computers, accessories and trainings.

Member Benefits & Discounts of The Community Corps:

- Free access to skilled technical volunteers
- Post as many requests for skilled tech volunteers as needed.
- Priority access to special opportunities and events.
- Free project posting on LinkedIn to recruit volunteers

Goals

In today's session, we will discuss:

- ☐ How to define the work that needs to be done
- ☐ The 4 screening tests before you start a pro bono engagement
- ☐ How to find pro bono resources
- ☐ How to make the ask

Defining the Work

Traditional Volunteering Versus Pro Bono¹

Traditional Volunteering

- Direct or immediate needs, extra hands
- Type of support: hands on volunteering
- Examples: packing food, serving meals, cleaning up a park, walking dogs

Skilled Volunteering

- Organizational or long term needs: infrastructure & leadership
- Skills based
- Examples: IT assistance, graphic design, HR coaching

Nonprofit Tech Stats

Technology is challenging for nonprofits

Technology is consistently cited as either the #1 or #2 functional challenge for nonprofits¹.

77% of nonprofit leaders surveyed reported that using technology effectively is a significant challenge¹.

For too many nonprofit professionals, technology is a source of never-ending confusion and frustration...

What are the obstacles?

- Shortage of Money
- Inexperience
- No IT Staff
- Lack of IT Evaluation
- Lack of Time

Defining the Goals

Technology is not separate from your mission and program:

- It is the foundation to achieve your goals
- It touches everything you do
- It can support your work or make it more difficult

Sometimes the Need is Obvious

Server not found

Firefox can't find the server at www.error.find.dns/.

- Check the address for typing errors such as ww.example.com instead of www.example.com
- If you are unable to load any pages, check your computer's network connection.
- If your computer or network is protected by a firewall or proxy, make sure that Firefox is permitted to access the Web.

Try Again

Sometimes the need is not obvious.

So Many Needs So Little Time

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening: 4 Tests for Great Pro Bono Engagements

- ☐ Scope
- ☐ Urgency
- ☐ Knowledge Needed
- ☐ Staff and Board Readiness

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Scope

- ☐ Do you have a clearly defined project scope?
- ☐ Are you confident that the scope won't change over time?
- ☐ Is the scope of the project realistic for a volunteer project?
- ☐ Can this project be chunked into smaller projects?

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Scope Tips

- ☐ Don't expect that everything can be done in one project
- ☐ Confirm that the project will address the issue

“Just like building a house – everything takes twice as long as you think. With pro bono even longer. We have learned to chunk our projects into more bit size pieces so we can make sure we are always making progress” – Itedal Shalabi, Executive Director, Arab American Family Services —¹

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Scope

Fail

- ☐ Full Salesforce Implementation
- ☐ We need a brand new website

Pass

- ☐ Requirements gathering for implementing Salesforce
- ☐ Assessment of our current website

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Urgency

- ☐ When does the project need to be done?
- ☐ What are the consequences of not meeting the deadline?

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Urgency

- ☐ Important but not urgent
- ☐ Projects that won't put your organization in jeopardy if it takes 50% longer than expected
- ☐ Be realistic about Pro bono deadlines

“I look for opportunities to use pro bono where the work needs to be done within the year but not immediately” – Rismas Jasin, Executive Director, Presbyterian Senior Services ¹

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Urgency

Fail

- ☐ Server just crashed
- ☐ Website was hacked
- ☐ Website needs to be updated for an event in 3 weeks

Pass

- ☐ Training staff on Excel
- ☐ Updating website for a program scheduled to launch in 6 months
- ☐ Are we using our database effectively?

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening: Knowledge Needed

- ☐ How much detailed organization or nonprofit knowledge is needed?
- ☐ Is it worth your time to teach them?
- ☐ What is the likelihood a volunteer will have the skill/knowledge

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Knowledge Needed

- ☐ Look for projects that closely parallel corporate equivalent
- ☐ Look for projects where volunteer skills closely match

“Our work is complicated and we have found pro bono services have been most effective when they are more functional than strategic. It enables us to quickly get results” – Robert Cordero, Executive Director, CityWide Harm Reduction

Is Pro Bono the Right Solution?

Screening Test: Knowledge Needed

Fail

- ☐ Training on proprietary shelter software
- ☐ Implementing proprietary shelter software
- ☐ Increasing donations

Pass

Examples

The Brooklyn Bridge Park Conservancy is the main stewardship and programming partner to Brooklyn Bridge Park, a new park project that spans 1.3 miles along the Brooklyn waterfront. The Conservancy produces and presents innovative cultural, recreational and educational programming in the current Brooklyn Bridge Park and actively promotes the needs of the Park and its constituents. As a small non-profit working in a fast-paced environment, we serve more than 150,000 people a year through our public programs and stewardship.

Programming staff has a basic knowledge of Excel and uses it to collect and format data. However, we would like to advance our skills and improve our efficiency with the software. A sample of some of the skills we would like to improve upon: data design and organization, charts, shortcuts, formulas, and data analysis.

Advanced training in Excel will enable our staff to meet our public service and stewardship goals at Brooklyn Bridge Park.

Examples

Are you a social media pro who would like to share their expertise with a 501c3 dedicated to bees? If so, keep reading...
